Planners Ready Tues. To Sacrifice Beach At Bixby

Beautiful Bixby Creek may be lost to the people of this state forever when the Monterey County Planning Commission meets Tuesday in Salinas at 1:30 o'clock, the final public hearing will be held on the application of Bixby Creek Properties, Incorporated, for withdrawal of Bixby Beach from the county beach acquisition plan. The commissioners are inclined to look favorably on the request, especially as there is a letter on file from the state beaches and parks representative, Jess T. Chaffee, tentatively approving the withdrawal. But Mr. Chaffee told the Pine Cone on the phone yesterday that he would review his recommendations.

C-2 Prop. Owners May Protest New Zoning Change

Property owners in Carmel's tiny C-2 (light industry) zone will get together tomorrow night to discuss the proposed "anti-motel" amendment to the city zoning ordinance, which would restrict dwelling units in C-2 zone to second story apartments of not less than four rooms, require not less than 400 square feet for parking and landscaping for each unit or for every 1000 square feet of dwelling. Some of the property owners feel this amendment would be too restrictive and if they find at tomorrow night's meeting that the rest of their group are of like mind, will protest the amendment when it comes up for public hearings.

The Carmel Planning Commission has called a special meeting for Monday at 4:00 o'clock formally to receive the proposed amendment. (Continued on Page Eleven)

Not just Bixby Creek is at stake, but the whole beach acquisition structure is threatened if this beach is withdrawn from the acquisition plan for reasons offered by the Bixby Creek Corporation, which has been represented at the hearings by Carmel City Councilman Francis Whitaker, who is a stockholder and property owner at Bixby Creek.

The corporation claims: That the beach is too small for public use.

That it is too difficult of access. That barbecue pits, restrooms and parking lots would spoil the scenic beauty of the area.

If the commission is prepared to drop beaches from the county acquisition plans on the grounds that they are too small, Lime Kiln would qualify for removal. It is only 8 acres. Bixby acquisition was to be 52 acres. Sur beach is only (Continued on Page Fourteen)

City To Appeal State Board's Invalidity Of Carmel Zoning Ordinance

The state department of alcoholic beverage control has ruled that Carmel's liquor zoning law is invalid and decided to grant Paul E. Chedester and Robert A. Aebersold an off sale beverage license for their Pink Elephant liquor store on the rear of the Pilot Market parking lot at Junipero and Sixth.

At the time of the public hearing on October 2, received registered letters Saturday from the state board informing them of the decision. The city didn't receive its notice until mid-week since the city hall was closed from Friday noon until Wednesday.

Harold L. Ireland, spokesman for the citizens' group which urged the council to protest the license and supported the city at the public hearing, says that his committee will ask the city council to appeal the decision of the board.

Mr. Ireland says that it may be necessary to go to court to defend Carmel's right to protect by zoning the areas adjacent to the residence district, and his committee is prepared to "follow through."

The city council has 40 days in which to file its appeal.

Mayor Horace Lyon, and City Councilmen James Buffington and Carl Patnude told the Pine Cone that they are in favor of appealing the decision since it challenges the city's right to establish zoning. (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Meyers Considers Reintroducing Uniform Signs Bill; Pattee Says He'll Protect Carmel From Such A Fate

Assemblyman Charles W. Meyers of San Francisco thinks he might introduce his uniform signs and house numbers bill again this session of the state legislature, he told the Pine Cone when we phoned him last night.

The last time Mr. Meyers introduced such a bill, a number of Carmel residents considered seceding from the State of California.

"It's fantastic that a person can't find where he is going in Carmel. Suppose you want to visit somebody. How do you find them?" asks Mr. Meyers.

We called our assemblyman, Alan Pattee, and he said he'd keep a sharp eye out for any nonsense from Mr. Meyers.

Mr. Pattee has several other things on his mind. He is on the fish and game committee and is upset about what the lumber companies are doing to the mountains and streams in northern California.

"It looks like the Battle of the Marne," says Mr. Pattee, dating himself.

"They have destroyed 600 miles of spawning streams dumping logs and bark into the waterways. There must be more controlling legislation for the lumber industry."

He added that if his time schedule could be adjusted he'd like to be on the conservation and planning committee. The Pine Cone, conservation anxious at all times, would like to have him on that committee.

Mr. Pattee is concerned with the commercial development along the lower Colorado River. He feels that much of the land should be kept as game reserve, the rest set aside for recreational purposes. He found on a trip there last spring that Arizona squatters are putting land under cultivation on the California side and that unattractive and tourists' accommodations are popping up along the river in areas that should be preserved for scenic and recreational values. The California Fish and Game Commission has staked out what it wants done with the California side of the River, "but we can't do anything until we know who owns it," Pattee told the Pine Cone. There has been a committee working on boundary problems for some months.

Monterey O.K.'s Shopping Center On Carmel Hill

The Monterey City Council gave the Old Capitol Tract proposed shopping center the go ahead signal last night when the council passed the second reading of the rezoning ordinance governing the establishment of the center. The ordinance provides for annexation of portions of the tract to the city; puts deed restrictions on property in the proposed shopping center; arranges for the City of Monterey to assume drainage and sewage problems; and annexes six acres along Munras Avenue to Don Dahvee Park.

The Del Monte Properties application for rezoning of the land was presented by Attorney William L. Hudson. The proposed shopping center is to be on the east side of Highway One at the foot of Carmel Hill.

PADRES HOST LIVE OAK CAGERS FRIDAY NIGHT

Carmel High's lightweight and varsity basketball squads waded into league action this Friday night after enjoying a two-week's enforced vacation from the playing court. Rules of the Coast Counties Athletic League prohibit organized practice sessions during the Christmas vacation period so both schools will go into Friday night's crucial league tilt with only one day's practice in the last two weeks. The Padres must win this one to stay in contention for the flag as they dropped their first two league games to Pacific Grove and Gonzales. Live Oak is riding near the top of the league, holding wins over Pacific Grove and Gonzales and dropping one decision to league-leading Gilroy. In Guinn and Torres, the Acorns boast two of the best scorers in the league to go with their well-balanced veteran quintet.

Carmel's varsity showed signs of jelling into a smooth-working unit during the last two games of the Gustine tournament where the red and grey gang copped the consolation title. Clyde Klaumann, senior forward, was one of the highest scorers in the entire tournament and played a solid floor game in all three games. The improved play of Bill Hicks, sophomore forward, makes him a threat to nail down the other forward spot on the starting five. Art Wilkerson and Bob Durbrow continue to battle it out for the starting center position with Bob's height and experience giving him a slight edge. The Dawson brothers, Dale and Charley, will open at the guard spots but they are ably backed up by a pair of hustling cagers, Joe Mason and Billy Wallace.

Friday night's preliminary game matches Fred Rainer's inexperienced lightweight crew against the veteran Live Oak aggregation which won the league title last season. Rated as one of the finest lightweight teams in either the A or B division of the CCAL, the Live Oak limiteds are undefeated this season and appear to be a cinch to repeat their winning performance of last season. Coach Rainer's little Padres have shown improvement in each game and came within a whisker of beating Bob Clark's Monterey High lightweights. Led by a fine little playmaker, Jim Lee, the Padrecitos are a fast-moving quick-shooting aggregation with lots of hustle and fight. Lee is the only veteran on the squad but he is getting lots of help from Bob Potter, Jamie Holman, Russ Wise, Pete Hensel, Ronnie Faia, and Pete Wilcox. These lads are making their first try at basketball and figure to improve with every outing.

Friday night's lightweight game gets underway at 7 o'clock with the varsity tilt slated for 8:30.

THROUGH THE HOOP

Weird scheduling provides plenty of basketball on the Peninsula this weekend as all high schools are slated for home games on Friday night and Monterey has another home game on Saturday night. The Toreadores host Bob Hagen's classy Gilroy Mustangs Friday night and entertain San Francisco's St. Ignatius High School on Saturday night. The Lacour-less Saints aren't as potent as they were last season and the Toreadores figure to make them hustle this time. Hollister visits the Pacific Grove gym for a crucial league tilt with the loser just about eliminated from championship contention. Live Oak High comes to Carmel Friday night for another vital league contest.

Henry Overin, ex-Padre all-around athlete, is showing exceptional control in the Recreation hoop league and is currently leading all the scorers in the class B circuit. The cool southpaw has pumped through 20 field goals in three games, showing an uncanny accuracy with a deadly one-hand push shot. Don Prince, Overin's teammate on the Carmel Sport Shop squad, is also high on the scoring list with 11 field goals and 12 free throws.

Word from John Hanna, coach of the North Shrine team which plays in Los Angeles next summer, shows that Gilroy High's talented hoop star, Julian Aguilar, is being touted for one of the end spots on the all-star squad. The 6-2 180-pound grid and basketball star was the top college prospect in the CCAL last season and would do a fine job for Coach Hanna's North squad. In last year's North-South Shrine game, Gilroy's Bob Harrison played one of the tackle spots for the North All-Stars.

B-league basketball standings find undefeated Gilroy riding on top with a 3-0 record; Live Oak has 2-1; Hollister has 1-1; Pacific Grove 1-2; King City 1-2; Gonzales 1-1; and Carmel 0-2. In the lightweight division, Live Oak is undefeated but is being pressed by the classy Gonzales Babes.

British Magazine Has Write Up Of Carmel's Pines And Cypresses

The November issue of Country Life, a British Magazine similar in content and format to the American slick paper publication Holiday, carried the following article of local interest. The magazine was sent to the Pine Cone from San Francisco by Robert Kirk Underhill.

BY MILES HADFIELD

When, in the latter part of the 18th century, the Spaniards founded the garrison station of Monterey in California, at the south of a wide and wind-swept bay, they can have no idea that two species of trees which grew in that district and nowhere else in the world would, within a hundred and fifty years or so, have carried the name of the place with their multitudinous offspring to many countries far off, and across both the Pacific and Atlantic oceans.

The Monterey cypress and the Monterey pine are now grown in huge numbers in temperate parts of the world — the first as an ornamental tree and windbreak, the second as an important element in forestry. Both are valued for the inherent qualities that enable them to thrive in their natural habitat. They can survive the strongest winds, which lash them with the salt spray of the Pacific, conditions which few trees will tolerate. Though coming from a frost-free district, they are not harmed by such frosts as we have, for example, in the southern and western parts of the British Isles. Both are easy to propagate, for they produce abundant seed at an early age — puzzling phenomenon when considered with the fact that their home in nature is restricted to only a few square miles.

Economically, the Monterey pine is the more important, as it is the more interesting tree. A key to its fame lies in the fact that it is widely known to foresters as insignis, one of its botanical names, without the prefix Pinus. Its early history is connected with two tragic figures. The first was J. F. Galaup de La Perouse, the great French navigator, who, deterred from seeking the North-West Passage, made important discoveries in the Pacific, and then, in 1788, disappeared with his ships, the Boussoule and the Astrolabe. La Perouse had visited the Monterey coast a year before, and a cone believed to be of this pine was gathered by Collignon, a gardener, who sailed with the expedition. It was sent to Paris, and plants raised from its seed were described by the botanist Loiseleur. Then they disappeared, and Loiseleur's description is inadequate to prove beyond dispute that it was the Monterey pine, and that a Frenchman had the honour of being the first to introduce a Pacific conifer to Europe.

There is no doubt about the claims of that great explorer, David Douglas, whose life also ended prematurely and tragically in his thirty-fifth year when, while on Hawaii, he fell into a trap set for a wild bull. Douglas visited Monterey during 1831 and 1832, and from seeds he then collected plants were raised in the Horticultural pace; a tree felled at Caerhays in Cornwall when it was about 80 years old had a trunk 126 ft. long. In our milder counties it becomes a good-sized tree within thirty years and already displays its one disadvantage: the top spreads and flattens, with the consequence that a heavy fall of snow, with which nature has not intended that it should cope, lodges on it and badly broken branches may follow.

If the rate of growth is fast in this country, it is phenomenally so in New Zealand, South Africa and Australia. I cannot find out when it was introduced to those countries, but it has been extensively planted and helps to remedy their natural shortage of softwoods. An example of its astonishing growth under conditions such as are found in New Zealand is seen in figures relating to a stand in the Kaingaroa State Forest. In a compartment planted in 1922 and measured in 1954 (when there were 180 stems per acre) the tallest tree had reached 146 ft. In such circumstances, of course, the Monterey pine is grown on very short rotations. The wood, though not of high quality, is used for cases and boxes and internal structural work.

The botanical name of this pine is rather troublesome. Douglas in his manuscript notes, named it Pinus insignis, "the remarkable pine." J. C. Loudon in his Arboretum et Fruticetum Britannicum of 1838 published a description and illustrations made from Douglas's notes and material. Loudon's great work was, of course, widely read and regarded as authoritative and the name insignis was universally adopted.

It was not until much later that there were found, buried away in the Transactions of the Linnean Society for the year 1837, descriptions of five new species of pine collected in California by Dr. Thomas Coulter, the Irish botanist and traveller. These were written (Continued on Page Twelve) tural Society's London garden, and also by the Duke of Devonshire. Douglas never published any account of the pine, though he described it in manuscript. Surprisingly, so far as is known, he never saw, or at least never remarked upon, the Monterey cypress, though the two often grow side by side.

At first the Monterey pine sold at high prices: in 1838 five pounds a plant was being charged in the London nurseries. But by 1852, if not earlier, trees in Britain were beginning to produce seed, and the species was frequently being planted in our milder counties. One of the first to realise its value as a shelter tree was Augustus Smith. He planted it extensively when laying out his garden at Tresco in the Scilly Islands, in the 1850s, and there it may still be seen, growing as it does in its Pacific home, stunted by the gales and sometimes with its roots almost in the sea. In more sheltered places, however, and as we generally see it, the Monterey pine is an upright and lofty tree, easily recognized by the necklaces of cones which remain encircling the branches for many years, often unopened and still containing the seeds, which seem to retain their viability for an almost unlimited period. It is said that the cones open much more readily in the warm air of the Monterey autumn, where a second whorl of cones is often produced within one season. The leaves are mostly in threes, but two leaves to a sheath are not uncommon.

It shares with Cupressus macrocarpa an ability (unusual among conifers) to thrive on chalk, and is in fact generally happier on rather light soils than on heavy ones; it requires good drainage. When happy, it grows at a great

The above event may never have happened just like that in real life but it brings to mind the fact that Small Fry can have 3,000 glasses of water straight for less than ten cents. Of course if he prefers his drinks with flavor and bubbles he will have to pay more.

Water, the basis of all beverages, is plentiful here, and inexpensive, too, considering its value. Bottoms up!

"Freshest Advices Foreign And Domestic"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Corum Jackson, returning from his annual trip east and south, brought back a copy of the Virginia Gazette, from Williamsburg, Virginia, which apparently has been in publication for some years, judging from the following extract from their files, printed in their November 16, 1956 issue.

LONDON, February 24.

Extract of a Letter from WARSAW, February 20.

"His Holiness the Pope has, we are informed, wrote Letters to the Empress of Russia, the Emperor of Germany, and to the Prussian Monarch, in Favour of the unhappy Kingdom of Poland, and its more unfortunate Sovereign, who is now in a worse Situation than many of his Subjects, especially those who have submitted to either of the three Powers, they being treated with the greatest Generosity, and are much honoured and carressed. But there are still some few Poles left who scorn to deliver up their Liberties, and are anxious to receive a Call from their King to endeavour to revenge the Oppression with which all Poland is now burthened."

On Account of the extraordinary Mildness of the Season, the Royal Society have made Application to Government for a Ship to sail as near the North Pole as it may be found possible to go, and the Request has been granted.

It is an absolute Fact that 500 Carriages have been already struck out of the Excise Registers, and more laid down that were never entered; so that Frugality does, in some Measure, begin to make its Appearance.

Lord Greville Montague, we are told, is to succeed Sir W. Trelawney in the Government of Jamaica. Lord William Campbell to succeed Mr. Montague in the Government of Carolina, and the Honourable Mr. Legge to be Governor of Halifax.

We hear from Paris, that the King has taken a surprising Turn, and seems at present to find his greatest Pleasure in Politics. He has quitted the Bosom of Madam Barre, for the Cabinet; and, feeble as he is, never fails of assisting at all the Councils. Some day, that this in Consequence of the present Disposition of the three Powers who are now about to make a Division of the Kingdom of Poland; and that, if possible, he is determined to frustrate their cruel and ambitious Designs. For this Purpose, he is endeavouring to engage the Kings of Great Britain and Spain to join him, and to oppose the Usurpers. A Messenger is said to have arrived at the French Ambassador's in Great George Street, from Paris, on the above important Business. Should Great Britain and Spain acquiesce to Lewis's Scheme, which is not improbable, it is very likely we shall see Europe in Arms in less than three Months.

TURIN, February 20. On Wednesday Evening, the 17th Instant, about six o'clock, his Sardinian Majesty was taken ill, and at two the next Morning he lost his Speech, and apparently all Kind of Sensation, not taking any Nourishment from that Time, or showing any other Sign of Life than barely continuing to breathe, till near one o'clock this Morning, when he expires, as sincerely lamented by all his Subjects, as he had constantly lived beloved and respected, during a Reign of upwards of forty Years.

CONSTANTINOPLE, January 25. A violent Storm has lately happened here, which has done much Damage, and occasioned an infinite Deal of Confusion. On the Night of the 16th Instant a hard Gale came on from the East (which is the only Wind to which the Harbour of Constantinople lies exposed) and soon increased to such a Degree of Violence that many of the Gallies, ships &c. were driven on Shore and stove to Pieces; others cut their Cables, and endeavoured to get through the Bosphorus into the Black Sea, but many perished in the Attempt. Several Parts of the Seraglio, which stand on the Peninsula of Thrace, just at the Entrance of the Port, were blown down, and some Lives lost. Some of the Works at the Dardanelles have likewise suffered, and much Damage done in the Archipelago.

MUNICH, February 4. The Mortality still continues to rage among the Horses in this Electorate; it is a Sort of Inflammation of the Lungs, which carries them off. The only Remedy we have yet found effectual is bleeding them, when first affected.

In the Neighbourhood of Seisen-sels an epidemick Fever makes great Ravages, by which many whole Families have been carried off. The Physicians have done every Thing in their Power to put a Stop to it, but without Effect, and have applied to Government to appoint nine Days Prayers to be put to St. Stephen to stop its Progress.

Village Corner Has 10th Birthday

The Village Corner, Carmel fountain lunch and Village gathering place, located at Dolores and Sixth Avenue, this week is celebrating its tenth year of operation. Tomorrow the birthday will be commemorated with cups of coffee "on the house" to one and all visitors to the self-service fountain.

Rollo Payne built The Village Corner a decade ago "as an informal Carmel club," as he expresses it today. A Bulletin Board (now moved to the opposite southwest corner) was installed outside—an innovation mentioned in more than one national magazine story about Carmel. A bench also is an outdoor feature of The Village Corner so that patrons—and passersby—can rest and chat on their way to and from the Post Office. A fresco breakfast, luncheon, coffee breaks and snacks in The Corner's outdoor patio give Carmel one of its surprisingly few public out-of-doors eating spots.

Comstock Associates designed The Corner while the late Hugh Comstock still was the head of that firm. The site is the property of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Leidig. In 1946 when The Corner was constructed it was adjoined by an old barn on the east, a taxi stand on a vacant lot facing it to the south, and an old house on another vacant lot to the west. All such areas now, of course, are filled with properties and businesses since developed.

George D. Rockwood is the present managing-owner of The Village Corner. And he is a deft man with flap jack flipper, griddle and the short order—life blood of The Corner. Mr. and Mrs. Rockwood and their four children reside in the Oak Knoll sector of Monterey. "We feature home made cakes, pies and ice cream," Mr. Rockwood will tell you and both he and Rollo Payne feel it is a safe estimate to say that The Corner serves 1,000 customers a day. The one millionth cup of coffee mark was passed during The Corner's first year of operation. By now the number of cups of coffee served there is astronomical.

Janet Tolerton

Mrs. Janet Caldwell Tolerton died Sunday afternoon in a local hospital after a brief illness. For the past 16 years she made her home at Big Sur.

Mrs. Tolerton was born on February 8, 1879, in Newburg, New York. She came to California in 1915 and to the Big Sur in 1940. She was a member of the Big Sur Grange.

Survivors are two sons, David Tolerton, Big Sur sculptor; and Burt Tolerton of Berkeley.

Private funeral services were held on Monday afternoon in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium. The Reverend Bernard M. Lovgren, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Del Monte, officiated. Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to contribute to the memory of Mrs. Tolerton may do so in the form of donations to the American Friends Service Committee, 1830 Sutter Street, San Francisco 15.

Agnes Wood

Mrs. Agnes Wood died early Monday morning in a local hospital after a short illness. She had lived in Carmel for the past 25 years, and, with her husband, John Wood, resided at Dolores and Seventh Streets.

Mrs. Wood was born in Glasgow, Scotland, on June 22, 1875. She was married on April 4, 1920, in Brooklyn, New York.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Wood leaves two sisters, Mrs. Ida Hancock of North Westport, Massachusetts; and Mrs. Margaret Boulds of Center Village, Massachusetts.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon in the Mission Mortuary with the Reverend Joseph M. Ewing of the Carmel Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment followed in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium.

MRS. LAW RETURNS TO WIN

A check for $100 was presented to Mrs. Nora McCaffery Law, when she returned from a visit to Berkeley this week to find she had won second place in the Salinas merchant's holiday contest. Mrs. Law is thinking of retiring her old typewriter and using the award money to buy a new stream-lined model to record the doings of the Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club and other organizations to which she belongs, and for which, as a former newspaper-woman, she writes publicity.

ELSTONS HOME AGAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Elston took their three daughters, Patty, Jeannie and Helen, to Tommy's parents' ranch in the Stanislaus National Forest, six miles from Coulterville, to spend Christmas. Also at the ranch for Christmas were Mr. and Mrs. Norris Graham from Long Beach, Tommy's brother-in-law and sister and their two children, Anne and Mike. Patty and Jeannie Elston and the Graham children remained at the ranch until last weekend looking at the snow on the far mountains and wishing that it were closer so they could ski. Mrs. Elston met the girls in Merced on Sunday after a trip from Berkeley to Yosemite with Mrs. Jessie Larsen of Honolulu. In 1928, Mrs. Larsen and Mrs. Elston went to Yosemite to ski during the first winter that the Valley was open for winter sports. The trip this year was a nostalgic pilgrimage not only in remembrance of times past but in memories of Christmas skiing—no snow this year!

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

This library is unexpectedly fortunate in obtaining a copy of the new book on Leonardo da Vinci. It is a monumental work, the most complete account of his life and works ever written. The illustrations are excellent, many of them are magnificent color prints, and they include his engineering drawings. Because of the high price of the book, we decided against buying it. But when we had a chance to obtain a copy at a reduced price, we did so. It will be on exhibit at the loan desk for a time, beginning next week. Later it will circulate on the examination procedure in practice here. Any patron found getting finger smudges on it, or in any way handling it roughly, will be drawn and quartered in the public square, so help us!

Men to Match My Mountains, by Irving Stone, is based upon stories of the far west and the men who pioneered there. The title is taken from a poem by Sam Foss which runs:

Bring me men to match my mountains,
Bring me men to match my plains,
Men with empires in their purpose,
And new eras in their brains.

This seems to be our week for monumentals, because we have also The World of Mathematics, edited and compiled by James Newman, over a period of fifteen years. This is a four volume anthology of the literature of mathematics from the ancient Egyptians to the present day and Alfred Einstein. It is an amazing compilation, even including humorous writings and games based upon mathematics.

An unusual book about a most unusual man is The Man Who Lived Twice by Eric Barnes. The man in this case is Edward Sheldon, whose active life ceased when he contracted a severe case of arthritis which forced him to a life of immobility for twenty years. During those twenty years he built for himself a life completely above and beyond his infirmities so that he remained a personage in the worlds of the theatre, society, and literature. His story is supremely interesting, as well as inspiring.

The Reverend Georges Bissonnette gives us another glimpse inside the Soviet Union in his book Moscow Was My Parish. Father Bissonnette was for two years an American chaplain in Moscow.

Arriving too late for the political campaign, but still funny, is I'd rather Be President, by Charles Ellis and Frank Weir. The illustrations by Walt Kelly are as hilarious as the text.

There are five new novels, and one book of wise short bits by James Thurber entitled Further Fables for Our Time. The publishers of the Thurber book tell us "People who already know all there is to know about people shouldn't bother reading this book. Others need it badly." Those of us who are in the latter category should rejoice because reading this book is a delightful experience.

CHURCH WOMEN'S ANNUAL MEETING

Election of officers of the United Church Women of the Monterey Peninsula is set for Friday, January 11, at the annual meeting at the Assembly of God in Pacific Grove. Business session begins at 11:00, followed by box lunch with tea and coffee served by the hostess church. Reports of the year's work will be given.

program at 1:30 will be the Reverend Douglas M. Still of Fresno, the new Regional Director of Migrant Ministry of the National Council of Churches, who will tell of the expanding work the churches are carrying on for migrant workers. The local U.C.W. has contributed scholarships in the past to enable a young person interested in helping in this work, to get the training and join in directing six weeks of religious and recreational activity among children of migrants in the summer work camps in California. A scholarship is planned for the coming summer, and the local women would like to find a young person in this area who would assist in the camps this summer.

Mrs. C. A. Borchers of Carmel Valley, president of the local U.C.W. invites all church women interested in promoting the work of the organization, to attend the meeting.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The divine answer to human needs will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Readings from the King James Version of the Bible and correlative selections from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy will comprise the Lesson-Sermon entitled God.

From Philippians (4:19) the following will be read: My God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus.

Correlative passages to be read from Science and Health include the following (494:10-11): Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need.

Istomin, Fleisher In All Mozart Concert With S. F. Symphony

Two of America's topmost pianists will be presented in the San Francisco Symphony all-Mozart concerts at the Opera House Thursday evening, Friday afternoon and Saturday evening (Jan. 10-11-12).

San Franciscan Leon Fleisher and New Yorker Eugene Istomin perform together Mozart's duo Concerto in E Flat, K 865.

Separately, Istomin will be heard in the E Flat Concerto, K 271 and Fleisher in the C Major Concerto, K 503.

Conductor Enrique Jorda and the orchestra open with the Overture to The Abduction from the Seraglio.

Both of the pianists are familiar here. Fleisher's career officially got under way with the blessing of Pierre Monteux who presented him in a 1948 orchestral debut. Later he won the Queen Elisabeth of Belgium Award, a victory which stamped him as a virtuoso of the highest order and brought him appearances with the world's great orchestras.

His confrere Istomin began his rapid rise by winning the Levitt Award in 1943. Since then, he has been appearing regularly abroad, in this country and in the Orient and he is one of the distinguished soloists participating annually at the Casals Prades Festival in Southern France. He first performed locally in 1954, returned last season.

CARMEL BPWC PARTY

The Carmel Business and Professional Women's Club had their Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Elsie Adams in Hatton Fields. The party was handled under the direction of Miss Ethel Sizer. Each member placed a gift under the lovely Christmas tree. Everyone brought a small log for the fire and as the log burned told a Christmas story. After gifts were distributed, refreshments were served on beautifully decorated trays with tiny favors for each one. Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Thompson, who had to be absent because of having broken her hip, wrote a letter which was read by Miss Mildred Weeks.

For pennies a day you can now rent a beautiful new Story & Clark, Wurlitzer or Kimball Spinnet Piano.

Conservation On The March

A Weekly Column by
O. Edward Graves
Western Representative,
National Parks Association

CONSERVATION IN 1957

Looking forward to the 1957 conservation program, we can probably find no better picture of what it will look like than in the 12 resolutions adopted by the Federation of Western Outdoor Clubs at its meeting in September 1956. A large number of different resolutions had been presented to the Resolutions Committee for its consideration and these 12 represent the ones that were finally decided to be the most important. Much more will be heard about most of them during the coming session of Congress.

The first Resolution simply re-affirmed earlier policies that are still actively influencing the work of the Association. Briefly, they are (1) recommending the status of Dinosaur National Monument be changed to that of a national park; (2) supporting continued efforts to create a wilderness preserve in Arctic Alaska; (3) urging the establishment of the proposed Mt. Washington and Diamond Lake Wild Areas in Oregon; (4) opposing salvaging logging in national parks.

Resolution No. 2 concerns the proposed Scenic Resources Review, often discussed in this column. A recent professionally conducted survey, sponsored by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, shows that approximately three billion dollars was spent last year in this country by hunters and fishermen alone. Add to this the immeasurably large amounts spent by motorists in search of beautiful scenery and the commercial importance of this proposed Review, legislation for which will be introduced in Congress soon, becomes very apparent.

Resolution No. 3 opposes the proposed Bruce's Eddy and Penny Cliffs dams on the Clearwater River in Idaho. All the conservation groups of the country are against them, because of their disastrous effects on the elk herds, salmon and steelhead runs, and other scenic and wildlife resources of the West.

Resolution No. 4 supports the bill for a National Wilderness Preservation System, introduced in the last Congress by Senator Humphrey and others. This will be a major conservation effort during the coming session.

Resolution No. 5 urges the Forest Service to set up the Glacier Peak Wilderness Area in northern Washington — the most ruggedly beautiful wilderness remaining the United States — in accordance with the original Forest Service plan of 1939. Fears were privately expressed at the Conference that this might not be done.

Resolution No. 6 requests the Forest Service to revise its allotment policy to provide more adequate maintenance of major recreational trails.

Resolution No. 7 urges retention of the present boundaries of the Three Sisters Primitive Area in Oregon in reclassifying it as a Wilderness Area. This has been a major conservation controversy for several years.

Resolution No. 8 requests the Federal Power Commission to revoke its license to the Eugene Water and Electric Board for the Beaver Marsh dam on the Upper McKenzie River. The voters of Eugene have already expressed their strong opposition.

Resolution No. 9 expresses opposition to the building of the proposed Shrine of the Ages on the edge of the Grand Canyon in Arizona.

Resolution No. 19 urges the National Park Service to locate the proposed Olympic Park Beach Strip road east of Lake Ozette.

Resolution No. 11 commends the Forest Service for its policy of support for the Pacific Crest Trail and urges it to "implement this policy diligently".

Resolution No. 12 recommends that the State of Washington "compile an inventory of its public lands and using this as a basis, project its land needs into the future".

ROSA DONER IN NEW YORK

Mrs. Ephraim Doner left the day after Christmas by air for New York. She will remain in the East until next Wednesday when she flies back to be met in San Francisco by her husband and daughter Tasha. While in New York, Mrs. Doner, director of the Carmel Parent Nursery School, will return to the Banks Street School to observe work being done there at present with pre-school children.

Married in Mission

Ruth Sobolik was married to Paul Warner on Saturday afternoon in Carmel Mission by Father John McSweeney.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother Jack C. Sobolik of Los Angeles, wore a white ballarina length taffeta gown trimmed with pearls. A tiara of seed pearls held her shoulder length veil in place and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Ruth Lusch of San Francisco was matron of honor wearing a royal blue taffeta sheath and white feather hat. The bridesmaids, dressed alike, were Coleen Hogan, Marian Henderson, Donna McCormick and Virginia Elam.

The bridegroom's brother William L. Warner of Portuguese Bend, California, was best man and four former Carmel High School classmates of the groom were ushers, Robert Barry, Steven Brooks, John Egan and Dr. Basil Allaire.

The reception following the wedding was held in the Copper Cup Room at the Naval Postgraduate school.

The bride's daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Sobolik of Omaha, Nebraska, is club news editor of the San Francisco Shopping News. Paul, the son of Captain and Mrs. S. H. Warner USN (ret.), graduated from Carmel High School, and Stanford University and is at present an advertising executive at Macy's California.

Audubon Business Meeting

The Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society will hold its monthly meeting in the Carmel High School Library, January 4 at 8:00 o'clock in the evening. Malcolm Millard, member of the Monterey County Zoning Committee, will discuss issues affecting the survival of scenic values on Highway No. 1 and other matters related to local problems of conservation. Visitors are welcome.

Sixth Annual Unit Party

Colonel Julian A. Walker, commanding officer of the 6211th Army Reserve Unit, issued an invitation to all its members and their ladies to attend the sixth annual unit party on Saturday night at Mark Thomas Inn in Monterey. Festivities began with a ham dinner at 7:30 o'clock, followed by entertainment and dancing, both furnished by Special Services at Fort Ord.

The party was informal as in previous years with civilian clothing the rule of the day.

Film for Woman's Club

Spanish Main Adventure, with John D. Craig narrating, is the color motion picture with which the Carmel Woman's Club will open the new year at the general meeting on Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Serving on the tea committee will be Mrs. James Burgess, Mrs. Anderson Cannon, Mrs. Claude Faw, Mrs. D. S. Staniford, Miss Eva Dunbar and Miss Mabel Stean. Mrs. William Eklund will do the flower arranging and Mrs. Glen F. Mason and Mrs. George D. Marshall will pour.

Two Town House Programs

Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock Mrs. C. P. Vetter will give a talk at Town House, entitled An American Woman Looks at Iraq. Mrs. Vetter has been living for three years in Baghdad with her husband, a consulting engineer.

At the meeting of the Book-lovers in the Carmel Foundation Town House, January 14, the speaker will be E. Leigh Mudge, and his subject, My Experience With Poetry. Dr. Mudge has been a writer for many years, having published something like ten or 12 books, two of them poetry, as well as many shorter poems and essays in various periodicals. All are welcome to attend the meeting which will begin at 3:00 o'clock.

Lanny Doolittle Engaged

Announced simultaneously at the Christmas dinners of Delta Gamma sorority and Delta Upsilon fraternity on the San Jose State College campus, was the engagement of Dorinda Beth Jones to Lanny James Doolittle. The news was followed by the traditional exchange singing of serenades by the two groups.

Lanny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth James Doolittle. He graduated from Carmel High School in 1952 and last year obtained his bachelor's degree in music at San Jose State. He is at present doing student teaching at Willow Glen High School in San Jose in preparation for his special secondary teacher's credential. A second lieutenant in the U. S. Army Reserves, Lanny reports to Fort Benning, Georgia, in March to attend Officers' Infantry School. He will return to California to teach when he has finished his Army duty.

His fiancée is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell M. Jones of Glendale. She graduated from Hoover High School in Glendale and is now in her junior year at San Jose State majoring in elementary education. No wedding date has been set.

Junior Stamp Club

Abbott Silva, vice president of the Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club, is asking all juniors interested in stamps to meet with him on Friday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in his home, third house north of Ocean Avenue on Carmelo Street. His name is on the gate. This is a meeting to find out if there is a demand for a junior stamp club here, and those attending are asked not to bring stamps.

Home At Christmas

Henry F. Dickinson had his daughter Edith from San Francisco as a Christmas guest and arriving from Los Angeles was his son Henry Jr. who was able to leave his heating equipment manufacturing business long enough to spend Christmas day in Carmel.

Walter Henry Blanding Born

Lieutenant and Mrs. Robert Lightbourn Blanding became second time parents on December 7 when their son Walter Henry was born at Fort Ord Hospital, weighing seven pounds, five and one-half ounces. His older brother is William Albert, 14 months old. The Blandings came to Carmel in August when Lieutenant Blanding began two years of ordnance study at the Naval Postgraduate School. Grandparents of Walter Henry are Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Schoon of Ridgewood, New Jersey, and Colonel and Mrs. John W. Blanding of Key West, Florida.

Craig Visits Mrs. Brey

Seyen weeks old Craig Derby McClure is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Marquita Brey. He came with his parents, Darlene and Michael McClure, to spend Christmas in Carmel with his paternal grandmother. Craig's father has returned to Los Angeles until February when he will graduate from Woodbury College as a business administration major with emphasis on personnel and advertising work. While Michael is studying for his finals Craig and his mother will remain in Carmel with Mrs. Brey who is finding her first grandchild a fascinating personality.

Planning for League Study

Ed DeMars, county planning director, will discuss Area Planning for the Monterey Peninsula at the League of Women Voters' study session on January 9 at 1:00 o'clock in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. O. Kellogg, Scenic Drive and Eleventh Avenue. Any person interested in area planning is invited to attend the meeting.

Kochers Annual Eggnog Party

Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Kocher held their annual eggnog party on New Year's Day in their home at Carmel Highlands. Helping receive the guests were the Kocher's son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Philip Judson Epling (Sibyl Kocher) who are here until February 10. Then they leave for two years in Australia where Jud will continue his research project towards his doctor of philosophy degree in cultural anthropology at the Australian National University in Canberra. He has been awarded a fellowship for the Australian research. Previously Jud had been studying at the University of Chicago.

Mrs. Stilwell Back in Carmel

Mrs. J. W. Stilwell returned to Carmel on Sunday after three months in Europe and the East. In France, Mrs. Stilwell visited her oldest daughter Nancy, wife of Brigadier General Ernest F. Easterbrook stationed at Fontainebleau with NATO. In Germany, Mrs. Stilwell was the guest of her oldest son Brigadier General J. W. Stilwell Jr., stationed in Augsburg. He has since been transferred to Frankfurt to be chief of staff of the Fifth Army. Captain B. W. Stilwell, younger Stilwell son, is also in Germany with the Army Medical Corps stationed at Landstuhl, and Mrs. Stilwell visited him, too, before returning to the United States for Christmas in Burlington, Vermont, with her daughter Winifred, wife of Lieutenant Colonel W. E. Cox.

"Only one of the children I didn't see," says Mrs. Stilwell, "is Alison, married to Colonel William Cameron and stationed on Guam. I'll visit them on my next trip away from Carmel."

Ethelynd Kinsell

Mrs. Dudley Kinsell, widow of the late Judge Kinsell, died early Thursday morning in a Santa Barbara hospital following a brief illness.

She was born Ethelynd Harriet McClymonds at Petaluma, California, on December 27, 1876, daughter of John W. and Virginia M. McClymonds. She spent her girlhood in Oakland, California, where for 26 years her father was city superintendent of schools. She attended the Oakland schools and graduated from the University of California in 1899 with a doctorate degree. She majored in philosophy and languages.

After graduation she taught Latin and French in Oakland High School, resigning in 1903 to marry Dudley Kinsell, attorney at law, later appointed to the Superior Court Bench of the State of California. During her early married life she was active in charities serving as director on the boards of the East Bay Children's Hospital, DelValle Preventorium at Livermore and the Oakland Chapter of the American Red Cross. She was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority at the University.

Upon Judge Kinsell's retirement from the bench in 1925 the couple moved to Carmel where they maintained their home until Judge Kinsell's death in 1955.

Following his death, Mrs. Kinsell moved to Santa Barbara and has lived there since. She is survived by four nephews and two nieces.

Funeral services will be conducted on Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Gothic Chapel, Mountain View Cemetery, Oakland, California.

C-2 Prop. Owners May Protest New Zoning Amendment

(Continued from Page One) ment which the city council put together in the form of a motion at its meeting on December 19. Monday the planning commission will set a public hearing, probably for January 23. After its hearing, the planning commission will make its recommendations to the city council. The latter, if the planning commission recommends the amendment, will also have to hold a public hearing.

C-2 has been zoned for 30 years, and a number of uses are already prohibited, one of the property owners pointed out in discussing tomorrow night's property owners meeting. He felt that further restrictions are discriminatory and those in the amendment "economically unrealistic."

County Population Up And So Are Taxes

Year-end round-up of some tax facts for Monterey County, put together by California Taxpayers' Association, includes:

Number of people in the county is estimated at 173,400 for January 1, 1957, compared with 161,400 for January 1, 1956.

Tax base, or assessed value of taxable property in the county for the fiscal year, 1956-57, is $298,892,125, compared with $275,256,381 for 1955-56.

Taxable property per person in the county averages $1,848 for this year, compared with $1,786 for last year.

County-wide tax levy on property is at the rate of $1.61 per $100 of taxable property in the county for this fiscal year, compared with $1.45 for 1955-56. This is only one of the tax rates levied on property in the county, the association pointed out.

Over-all aid to the needy in the county shows a downward trend.

The number of people on the aid to the needy aged rolls in the county was 1,977 for September, 1956, compared with 1,956 for January, 1956.

The number of children and adults on the aid to needy children rolls was 885 for September, compared with 897 for January.

The number of people receiving general county relief was 511 for September, compared with 2,027 for January.

The number of people receiving direct aid as needy blind was 123 for September, compared with 119 for January.

Aid to the needy is one of the big expenditures of county government, the state-wide Taxpayers' organization observed. September, 1956, is the latest month for which state-wide data are available.

Roslyn Frantz Soloist Jan. 14 With Symphony

Roslyn Frantz will be piano soloist with the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra on the evening of January 14 at 8:30 o'clock in the Pacific Grove High School Auditorium. She will be heard in the Beethoven Concerto No. 5 in E flat major.

Egon Petri, originally scheduled for the second concert of the 1956-57 orchestra season, is unable to play due to illness in his family. Miss Frantz was enthusiastically received both in Salinas and Carmel in her previous appearances with the Symphony. She is the talented wife of director Gregory Miller, with a distinguished list of solo performances to her credit in San Francisco, Berkeley, Portland, Oregon; and other cities of the Pacific Coast region.

Handel's Water Music is also on the program of the Symphony's Pacific Grove concert as well as Milhaud's Suite Francaise, and the three movements of Debussy's Iberia.

The Symphony is playing in Pacific Grove for the first time under the new policy of the board of directors to take the Orchestra to communities in the county other than Carmel and Salinas where it has performed previously. The Salinas concert of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra with Roslyn Frantz as soloist will be on January 13 in the Salinas High School Auditorium at 7:15 o'clock.

WEAR WHITE AFTER DARK

WINNER 12TH NATIONAL TRAFFIC

The importance of dressing so you can be seen by motorists in the dark may save your life, says the California State Automobile Association. More than half of all pedestrians killed in traffic are struck at night. Many people do not realize how difficult it is for drivers to see pedestrians in dark clothing. If everyone who has to walk along highways and cross poorly lighted streets at night would wear something white or light-colored, the hazards of darkness would be greatly reduced. If you don't happen to be wearing something white, then carry a newspaper or other white or shiny object. Your life as a pedestrian will be safer.

British Magazine Has
Write Up Of Carmel's
Pines And Cypresses

by David Don, who was presumably unaware of Douglas's notes. Among them was one of a pine that was undoubtedly the Monterey pine. Don had named it Pinus radiata and as his publication was a year earlier than Loudon's, under the rules of botanical nomenclature it became the valid name, P. insignis being unfortunately relegated to the rank of a synonym.

What does Don's name mean? One cannot apply the term "radiating" in the usual sense, as of the spokes of a wheel, to any particular feature of this tree. I think the answer is to be found in Don's original Latin description. He writes that the cones have "Squamis radiato-rimosis" — which can be roughly translated as having "glittering (or shining) scales full of minute chinks." I suppose, therefore that the name means the "shining pine"—an allusion to the cones. Don never saw the tree and perhaps we can, therefore, excuse him for choosing such an inapt name, now forced on us, like a good many other inappropriate names, by the rules of botanists.

New Year's Open House

Dr. and Mrs. Francis H. Palmer held open house for their friends on New Year's Day in the evening from 4:30 o'clock on when they served hot buttered rum and rum punch to their callers. Assisting their parents with the party were the Palmer children Frank Jr. and Mary Pat.

Plaxton's Gay Christmas

Deputy City Clerk and License Collector Arthur M. Plaxton and Mrs. Plaxton had their two grandsons with them for Christmas this year for the first time. Two-year-old Bruce and one-year-old Mark came here with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brown (Betty Plaxton) and their other grandparents Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Brown of Riverside for a fine family Christmas. The Browns are now back home in Los Angeles where they will be until June when Donald graduates from USC as an architect.

Hunt Scheduled This Weekend

The Los Altos Hunt will come to Pebble Beach this Saturday and Sunday for two days of hunting. On Saturday night there will be a dinner dance at the Beach Club, honoring the visitors and on Sunday morning the Pebble Beach Hunt will hold a breakfast for them.

CALIFORNIA REDWOODS

Bright in the orange glow of dawn,
Great living pillars tower to the sky.
Ages may pass before they fall and die,
For they live on,
Telling of winter cold and sullen heat,
Of heaven's smiting fires, and now, of late,
Of men who come like an avenging Fate
To cut and beat
The living thews that bind them to the earth,
Until they totter in their last despair
And fall to lie among the ruins, where
Long since they had their birth.

Standing amid the silent centuries,
Little they reck the puny race of men,
Who live their petty threescore years and ten.
What memories
Of long-forgotten ages of our dawn,
What buried treasure might these giants bring,
Had they the secrets of man's venturing!
While they live on,
Through years when the great Genoan crossed the sea,
Or even through the age when Greece and Rome
And Judah founded our ancestral home.

And yet to be
Are eons when those giant redwoods there
Will stand through ages whose strange history
Now lies more deep than ancient mystery.
What will they know, or care?

Owings Here for Holidays

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Owings have been occupying their Carmel Highlands house during the Christmas to New Years holidays and plan to be here frequently during the next month while the house they are building at Grimes Point below Big Sur is being completed. Mrs. Owings' daughter Wendy Millard has been spending the vacation with her mother and Mr. Owings' twin daughters Natalie and Emily arrived this week. Next week all three girls return to the Colorado Rocky Mountain School near Aspen.

Mrs. Faul in Capital

Mrs. Sybell Faul is spending the holiday period in Washington, D.C. and was honored at a New Years' Eve dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. David C. Winslow at Normandy Farm, the picturesque French Provincial restaurant in the Maryland suburbs of the Capital. Mrs. Faul will return to Carmel in January.

Stamp Club Meeting

The Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club will hold an auction meeting on Monday night at 8:00 o'clock in the Carmel High School.

Larry Glad Vacation Over

"I'm so glad to be back at the City Hall," says City Clerk Larry Rose after a week's vacation at home riding herd on sons Chris, 12; Penn, 10; and Wade, six; painting the bathroom, repairing broken toys and generally making himself useful about the house.

"I really worked," says Larry, "and all I got was board and room."

Loftons Greet 1957

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lofton invited their friends to greet 1957 with them at two simultaneous parties. Teen age friends of the Loftons, contemporaries of their older daughter Nancy, greeted the New Year at a dancing party in the streamer decorated living room while older friends gathered to toast 1957 in Richard Lofton's adjacent studio.

Ends Trip Here

Bill Silva of Los Angeles came to Carmel to spend Christmas with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Abbott Silva. He had spent the previous two weeks vacationing in Mexico.

City To Appeal State Board's Invalidation Of Carmel Zoning Law

The Pine Cone was unable to reach the other two councilmen.

The finding of the state board's attorney on Carmel's liquor zoning law was included in the notice of the board's decision:

"The area in which the premises are located is zoned, generally, for commercial purposes. However, the zoning ordinance (Exhibit 'A') provides, in effect, that no alcoholic liquors may be sold in the area in which applicants' premises are located excepting that alcoholic liquors may be sold in the area '—provided that such sale shall be in conjunction with and subordinate to the carrying on of another primary business permissible under the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea in such districts."

"It is conceded by the Protestant, the City of Carmel, that if the sale of alcoholic beverages on the premises would be a subordinate part of some other business, such as a grocery store or drug store business, then applicants' liquor business would be permissible under the ordinance. It is conceded by the applicants that their business is to consist of sales of alcoholic beverages almost entirely with other items being incidental to the liquor business. The question is therefore squarely presented whether the qualification purportedly imposed by the ordinance, that the sale of liquor shall be permitted only in conjunction with and subordinate to the carrying on of another primary business, is valid."

"The provision of the ordinance, requiring that the sale of alcoholic liquors, in the area in question, shall be permitted only in conjunction with and subordinate to the carrying on of another primary business, is found to be invalid. The regulation of the sale of alcoholic beverages is vested by the Constitution of the State of California in the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control. The section of the ordinance in question steps beyond the field of zoning into the field of regulation and thereby comes into conflict with the said Constitutional provision and thereby falls. Furthermore, the said provision of the ordinance is discriminatory in that it singles out the sale of alcoholic beverages from other legitimate business, for which additional reason it is invalid."

MINOR ACCIDENT

Steve Patterson and Wiley E. Bryant of Monterey were involved in a minor accident yesterday afternoon at 3:25 o'clock on Highway One just south of the Pacific Grove cut-off. Both cars were going south when Bryant tried to pass Patterson and found he couldn't as there was already a car in the inside lane. Bryant slammed on his brakes and rammed Patterson's car in the rear. No one was injured and only front and rear fender damage resulted.

Planners Ready To Sacrifice Bixby Beach

18½ acres; and Partington, 60. The people whose property block access to these beaches would have as much justification in demanding these beaches be removed from the acquisition plan and secured for their private use as the Bixby Creek Corporation, if the planning commission drops Bixby Creek Beach from its plan on the grounds it is too small for acquisition.

Difficulty of access? The Old County road winds down from the Big Bridge on Highway No. 1 to the beach level where it crosses Bixby Creek ¾ of a mile from the beach. It is not a four-lane highway, but it is a sound road that many of us travel frequently just for the beauty of the drive which takes one from the coast, through the redwoods and back to the coast south of Sur Light. It is in constant use by the ranchers and residents of the area.

Garrapata Creek Beach, Partington Beach, Big Sur Beach and a half dozen others on the acquisition plan are of greater difficulty of access.

As for spoiling the scenery with parking lots, barbecue pits and rest rooms . . . nobody is thinking of "improving" this beach. When the state acquired it, it could set it aside as a natural area. The state need do nothing in the way of improvement other than to secure a right of way for a foot path along Bixby Creek from the county road to the beach. Nor would it work any great hardship on the property owners of Bixby Creek Corporation to sell that foot path right of way to the state and county.

Footpath access is all that is wanted, and it is seriously needed. The people have never had the use of Bixby Beach because the property owners have been adamant in driving out anyone who has attempted to reach it.

In spite of the great length of shoreline in Monterey County, only 18 beaches are in the county plan for acquisition. Beaches have been added, but this is the first time there has been consideration that one be withdrawn.

We cannot spare it; nor can we spare the other beaches we must inevitably lose if this one is given up.

—Wilma Cook.
